
CIRCASSIA.

The Prussian Gazette of the 6th says, that Raschid Murat, the bravest son of Schamyl, the Circassian Chief, had surrendered unconditionally to the Russians, and is now a prisoner at Tiflis. Prince Worongoff, son of the Commander-in-chief, and Governor of Bessarabia, received from the young chief the possession of the fort of Wenes Prya, and his numerous detachments of soldiers.

The New York Times

Published: January 26, 1852

Copyright © The New York Times